“ My sweet grandma. Though I always knew this day would come, it has taken me a week to be able to put in words how much you will be missed. During the last week of reflection, I realized that I never knew of trouble or sorrow in your life. You were always welcoming and loving. You always made everything better. You were the rock of our family and the calm to any storm. When Amy died, you were the biggest part of my comfort and for any other up or down in life, I knew I could always turn to you. I was selfish on that front, but so grateful for you.

On this obituary, you are listed as the grandmother to many, but there is no denying that you were so much more than just my grandma, you were my keeper of secrets, of hopes, of dreams and an unconditional love that could never waiver. I will forever strive to be sure that you are as proud of me throughout the rest of my life as you were everyday of life with you in it.

I love you, grandma. I miss you terribly and through tear-filled eyes, I thank you for the wonderful opportunity to be your grandson.
