“ My heart hurts that our family has lost another towering oak that shaded us and provided shelter. Aunt Aggie was a magnificent woman, intelligent, kind, fun loving, strong, and creative. I admire her; she is a pattern to follow to better oneself in many ways.

At each parting, whether by phone or in person, she and I always had the same words for one another, that she loves me and my children, and we love her. Sincere, deep love.

My mother, Irene Rice Johnson, loved Aggie dearly. Let it be forever remembered that all the Rice women were powerful, intelligent people who made the world a better place for having passed through.

I could write many pages to share every happy memory of her, but it would not be enough to explain why her death has left a gaping hole in my heart. I will miss her all the days of my life.

“ So many happy memories ! Aunt Aggie and her son Robert visiting us at the farm in central Illinois in the late 1950's and early 1960's -- the many times her house was open to all on New Year's Day. There everyone partook from the multi gallons of home made soup and the sandwiches and desserts in her kitchen. Special memories of the many times she and Uncle Bill traveled to our Nelson Lake home in May and September for their weeks of crappie fishing. While Up North Aunt Aggie not only spent hours in the boat fishing ,she and her sisters, my mother Irene and Aunt Sue, went to dozens of area weekend yard sales. These women knew my area better than I did. At our house we still have items Aunt Aggie made at her many craft meetings. With her generous heart she gave away almost everything she made.

Rest in peace wonderful lady. Your loving Nephew Gene and wife Pat.
