“ A friend who was kick ass . I remember one day in the back of Cleveland High school at the little confectionery hangout. She got in a cat fight with another girl an out and out brawl that drew a big crowd a hoopin an a howlerin it was the talk of the school all weeks. She should have joined the WWE . That's where Angel got all her spunk

“ This is how Marie's life touched me: Way Back in 1982. I was a student at Teller Training Institute in Brentwood. Marie was working there and she was my instructor. She was very knowledgeable and she used a hands on approach to learning the basics of operating a teller window along with the trade secrets of basic banking. Because of her knowledge and the way she taught me. I have been in the banking field ever since working at different financial institutions. Then 28 years later. I applied for and got a job at UMB Bank, and then I discover that Marie is the manager of the branch that I was going to work at. How cool is that. At my time at UMB, Marie, in her own unique way, helped me with all the changes that the banking industry was going through at that time. In my career now matter how complicated things gets, you always go back to the basics. Those basics are all those things Marie taught me.
