“ I lived next door to Beverly and because of certain circumstances I was not able to visit with her. But I did always worry about her and kept an eye out for her. If I heard sirens go by my house I always prayed they would just keep driving past her house. If her living room light stayed on all hours of the night I knew she was either not feeling well or had trouble sleeping and I would pray she would be alright. Well on Sunday I could not stop the sirens from stopping at her house and I could not stop her light going off. I loved her like a mom and I know she is in a happy place with God, family and friends. May she rest in peace now.
