“ I remember the last time I saw bill, he was visiting Donna. She lives across the street from me and as I was getting in my car to go to work, this booming voice yells out.. "HEY!" I turn around and it's Mr. Bill. I gave him a big hug and then he showed me the tailgate of his truck which has all his grandchildren's names on it. He was so proud of that I thought he would pop his suspenders. This is how I choose to remember him....big grin and standing tall. Rest In Peace Mr. Bill :-)
