He was a true outdoorsman who enjoyed fishing, camping, deer hunting, and gardening. He was a big man with an even bigger heart, and found great joy in making others laugh and smile. He was always ready to share a tale about his adventures growing up in the South. His Barber, his Mailman, the Medical Assistants in his Doctor's office, the dear friends he made at the YMCA, and especially his Grandchildren were a captive audience when hearing about the beginnings of NASCAR, or his sunburned road trips to Myrtle Beach, S.C. He was a selfless man who often put others happiness before his own. He will be fondly remembered and dearly missed by all who knew and loved him.
