her sisters-in-law, Carol Ruddy of Irving, California, Janet Wiegand of O'Fallon, Missouri and Carlene Wiegand of Oakville, Missouri, and many other relatives and friends.

Blanche met John when he “crashed” her 16th birthday party – and she married him 3 years later. She grew-up in South St. Louis and would raise her family across the United States as the wife of a career Navy man. While John was serving, Blanche volunteered with the Navy Wife Association and the two of them were active in bowling leagues in several communities. Later, Blanche was very active in quilting for Hope Lutheran Church and Wounded Warriors and was even featured on Channel 2 News. She enjoyed boating and had a houseboat for the family when the children were young and a sailboat on Lake Carlyle in retirement. For the past several years, Blanche was able to travel extensively. She is fondly remembered and will be dearly missed by all who knew and loved her.
