

Chris Goodman

March 17, 1973 - September 1, 2020

Chris Goodman, of Arnold, Missouri was born March 17, 1973, to Michael and Marie (nee Garofalo) Goodman and entered into rest, Tuesday, September 1, 2020 at the age of 47 years.

He is survived by,

his wife, Emina Goodman,

two children, Dominick and Maya,

his parents, Michael and Marie (nee Garofalo) Goodman, his sister, Jenise (Danny) Sexton, and many other family and friends.

Chris was a real-life Superman to his family, and everyone who knew him. He adored his wife and children and supported all of their accomplishments, ranging from Emina's career to Dominick's and Maya's academics, music and sports. He loved listening to the kids' jazz band concerts and he was Maya's biggest softball fan and coach. Chris was a hard-working entrepreneur and a talented jack-of-all-trades. There is nothing that he wasn't able to make with his hands, from a finished basement to personalized glitter cups to sewing a COVID mask and everything in between. With his tattoos, do-rag, and Harley, Chris appeared to be “Bad to the Bone,” but in his core he was the most kind, brilliant, tolerant, compassionate, and understanding person. He was nothing but heart. He was always willing to help anyone, and all he cared about was that you were a good person. He always enjoyed life to the fullest; he loved riding his custom motorcycle, golfing with his family, cooking for family BBQs, and enjoying a cold captain & coke. He was his family’s rock and the glue that bound them together. Chris will be fondly remembered and dearly missed by all who knew and loved him.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks and strongly encourages everyone to please donate to either the Fox High School Band, the program that has developed Dominick's and Maya's musical talents or Maya's softball team. Both of these organizations have always been supported by Chris and Emina.

“ Christopher was a great husband and father. When he was little him and his sister spent a lot of time with my girls. Angela and Chris was like 2 peas in one pod. When we got older Chris he had a paint Studio Ang did a paint of my dog. Funny thing is when I went to get it my dog in the picture was smoking weed with red eyes. “ This is the hardest and easiest thing I have had to do . I miss you Cuz. But the memories fill my days. I remember the times at Aunt Toni's for Halloween to you and Ang catching that darn mouse at Grandma G's. LOL You always had a smile or was laughing up a storm when we were together.

I remember the times in the city when you lived there to the nights with you and Red in Marthasville. Always up to no good but having a blast.

To when we were older and having drinks at Pinot's Palette, where you gave me the hardest time about my email address that I went a made a new one just for you and making sure the was pineapple juice for my Malibu. :-)

I see you in both Dominick and Maya, they got your best parts. You fun loving personality, welcoming heart and generosity. The way you would dress up as Superman for Dominick's boy scout trivia nights and what wouldn't you do for Maya.

Everyone knew that you were someone we could count on to help or just do something to make me laugh to cheer me up.

*You are truly missed and I miss you. XOXO

“ Where do I start. Growing up you were my favorite cousin (and I know I was yours 😭) You always had my back. The day I burnt my leg on the dirt bike, to the day I got kicked out of French class. “ Christopher you will be remembered as a caring, fun loving family man and sometimes the instigator of shenanigans. You were the typical little brother always trying to find ways to get Red in trouble but as you got older looked for ways to help her. You were one of the greatest gifts Aunt Marie and Uncle Mike could have ever received. You were always willing to lend a helping hand, smiling the whole time. RIP Christopher (aka Bobo and Superman). I know you'll be smiling as you watch over the family. You will be missed but always loved and never forgotten. Love Pam.

“ Christopher was the best brother and friend I could have ever asked for. He always had my back and would do anything for me. We unfortunately have the same taste in bad movies, but they would always make us laugh. This is how Christopher led his life, making others laugh and feel happy.

I will miss our time together so much, but I will always cherish the memories we had together.

I loved you then and you will always love you with my whole heart.

“ I have been wanting to write a message but couldn't find enough strength to write one.

I still remember the day I first met Chris.

It was in 2008, myself and my wife were struggling to move our new treadmill from the front porch of our new house in Arnold; suddenly someone came and offered help.

It was Chris Goodman from the opposite house. Ever since, Chris Emina and their lovely kids have been the part of our family.

A great husband to lovely Emina, rock solid behind her career and he was a wonderful dad to their lovely kids Dominick and Maya! Our conversation never ended with out him talking about Dominick's & Maya's education and extra curricular activities. He was proud of them!

Fan of our Indian dishes, we had some great moments together and he ended up trying few of those dishes too.

I always reached out to him if I had any maintenance at my home until we moved in 2019.

He built a beautiful deck for us in our new home recently and we were discussing about our basement project too.

We met couple of weeks before his passing away and never thought that would be our last meeting.

We were devastated the day we got the news and couldn't control our tears when we went to meet Emina.

It has been two weeks since his passing away today but a day never passed for us with out him in our conversation.

I probably never met a gentle and nicer person than him. He was Chris Uncle for my kids and they always loved his presence around.

Our heartfelt condolences to dears Emina, Dominick and Maya, Chris's Parents and Sister and all his loved ones.

May the almighty give all the strength to the family to get over from this huge loss.

*We will always remember you and your captivating smile, Chris.
You were a true GOODMAN in every sense!*

REST IN PEACE my friend!

*with heavy hearts,
Diva & Vijay and kids.*

I remember babysitting you and your sister, you were always up to something trying your best to figure out a way to get you sister in trouble. I think my favorite memory of you was when you sister got married and they play your song bad to the bone and you got on the dance floor took your tux jacket off swinging it around dancing. I enjoyed the little visits when you would be working close by and would just pop in to say hi. You were always so happy and carefree with a big heart willing to help when ever you could. We love you , we will miss you and you will always be in our hearts and minds.

“ Every since becoming best friends with Majana in high school, your family became a 2nd family to our entire small best friend group. Some memories of mine to share that flooded back to me when hearing the devastating news that we lost such an amazing person way too early.

23 years ago ish - hanging out at your old house down the street from Majanas on Delore. Remembering Chis drum set, Chris hockey gear when he was playing goalie on his hockey team. And maybe even a very small party there while Majana was watching the house while you guys were out of town.

20 years ago ish - Chris and Emina's wedding, You guys were so cool that our small group of friends were invited. I remember bartending most of the night. Im not sure if it was open bar and I just went behind and assumed that role bc I thought it would be fun or if I was asked. I believe Majana bartended with me or another close friend of ours and just had a blast. One of the best wedding ever to attend to, it was a blast!

10 years ago ish - Majana and Justins wedding in Mexico. Entire family from both sides attended as well as all the close friends. Probably close to 40 people attended. I was the lucky friend to be paired with Chris in the wedding party to walk down the isle in the wedding procession

4th of July fireworks - Several years you guys had everyone out for fireworks at your house in Arnold. Chris had the firework hookup and got massive amounts of big fireworks to shoot off with Justin besides him lighting them all off for all us to enjoy.

Pinots Palet- Chris putting so much work into renovating that space. It was truly an awesome place and I had 2 amazing hang outs there. One with just the small group of our friends and the other one being Verdinas wedding shower with the family. It was so fun and wanted to go more but I was working a lot and it was a far drive for me.

Chris cooking some awesome Indian food. I think he had a neighbor hook up to teach him some recipes and I was lucky enough to be over one night to share in the amazing dish he cooked.

Chris was and will always be remembered as such an amazing person.

*Luv you guys!

“ The last name says it all “GOOD MAN”! Great father, always talking about Dominic and Mya’s school and events that he NEVER missed if he had any control over it. First job I worked with him on and really met Chris, we both walked in the job with shirts with the sleeves cut off of them and he walked up to me and said “I can see that we are going to get along just fine”, and have been friends every since. And as you see in the picture he always made it fun to go to work with him.

I have several stories but one me and Chris were laughing about last time I worked with him was, we lived north of Troy MO out in the sticks. I invited Chris and his family to come out one Saturday night for a bonfire. After driving out to my house he decided that he had to be in Canada because of how far it was to my house so every time someone asked where I lived and Chris was around he would always say Canada. BUT, we were sitting around the fire and probably had a few to many to drink, Chris sitting in his chair leans back and looks up at the sky and says “look, Jupiter”. I took a look up through the tree branches and said Chris, buddy that is the moon! We laughed about that for a long time that night and for many years after. Needless to say after we finished laughing about that, his amazing wife had to drive from Canada back to their house. Lots of great times with Chris, learned a lot from him. Chris will be remembered And missed by anyone that knew him as a “GOOD MAN”.
