“ My name is David Wood. I first met Christine at a dance in 1965. I kept looking at her so she came up and asked me to dance. I accepted. Christine was my first girlfriend. I always called her Miss Christine. We both attended Southwest High School (1966 and 1968) and reconnected via Facebook about ten years back. We talked on the telephone once a year or so. I became very good friends with her father Harold. The thing I remember most about Christine was how much she loved her family. Rest in Peace Miss Christine. I will miss you. Save a place in heaven for Nancy and me.

“ Chris and I were childhood friends. Grew up on the same street. Went to the same grade school and high school.. Chris, and her brother Mike, were a couple of years older than me, but we still found things in common. Her dad, Harold, drove us to high school my freshman year. We listened to the pop hits of the day, sometimes singing along. Sometimes went to the local teen town at Epiphany Catholic Church. Never saw her or Mike after they graduated. Finding her on FaceBook after so many years was amazing. Had a few conversations about the "old" days, as old people tend to do... So sorry to hear of her passing.
