“ Cynthia and I are related by our mothers' side of the family. We used to get together often when we were young. My mother loved visiting relatives. As we got older the visitations got fewer. Had it not been for the fact that we went o school together we would have lost track of each other more than likely. I am so grateful that we stayed in contact with each other after high school. Our HS reunions seem to be the glue for many of us.
I will be forever happy that she was a part of my life.
