“ I have many fond memories of Mr. Petty. As a child growing up in Webster, he came to our house to fix our TV. This happened quite often. He was one of those people that as a kid, you knew he liked kids. He always had a smile for is. We all knew his name and liked it when he came. In high school, his daughter, Cindy, was a friend who sat behind me every day in home room, since she came after me in the alphabetical order of our class list. Then as an adult, Mr Petty was a friend to my daughters, as their crossing guard at Bristol. He was always such a kind man who always had a smile for every child. I know many people in Webster will miss him. My thoughts are with you. Anne Peppel Wilding
