Donald was a loving husband, father, grandfather, brother, and friend to many. He loved seeing his family and making great memories, whether it be fishing, working in the garden, or even telling stories. His favorite drives were on country backroads. His life wasn't always easy, from the young age of 13 he had to learn how to be independent and at the age of 14 he learned the importance of hard work. These values he learned at a young age helped him perfect his craft in the over 60 years he worked in the Plumbers Union, Labor Local 110. He also had a love for the Cardinals. Sitting on the porch with his wife of 66 years enjoying the birds was one of his favorite things. He will be fondly remembered and dearly missed by all who knew and loved him.
