

Franklin H. Miller

February 1, 1941 - March 26, 2026

Franklin “Frank” H. Miller of Hillsboro, Missouri, was born February 1, 1941 in Newburg, Missouri to Henry and Nancy (Roach) Miller and entered into rest Thursday, March 26, 2026 in St. Louis, Missouri at the age of 85 years.

Frank was a man who found peace and purpose in both his work and the simple joys of life. A dedicated aircraft engineer, he worked 35 years at McDonnellDouglas/Boeing, where his skill and commitment left a lasting impact before his well-earned retirement. Outside of his career, Frank was a Missouri Master Gardener Emeritus with a remarkable gift for nurturing growth, turning even the smallest seed into something beautiful. He found just as much happiness outdoors, whether he was on the golf course, casting a line while fishing, or enjoying the quiet patience of a hunting trip.

Above all, Frank loved being a dad and a Grandpa, roles he cherished deeply and carried out with pride and devotion. He enjoyed spending time playing cards with friends, sharing laughter and stories, and was known for his good sense of humor that could brighten any room. Frank’s love for his family, his strong work ethic, and his appreciation for life’s simple pleasures leave behind a lasting legacy of warmth, dedication, and joy.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Henry and Nancy (Roach) Miller; his loving wife, Norma Lee Miller.

He is survived by his children, Rusty (Angelica) Miller and Amy Miller; and his cherished grandchildren, Ethan Miller and Ayden Miller; along with numerous other extended family and friends.
