along with numerous extended family and friends.

George was an extremely hard worker, devoting many years as the meat butcher at Food for Less in High Ridge. He loved to spend time outdoors; camping, 4-wheeling, riding bicycles, and spending hot summer days in the river. He was an amazing cook and loved to grill meals for his family that were big enough to feed the entire neighborhood. George loved his family immensely, a loving husband, dedicated father, wonderful grandfather and great-grandfather, and trusted friend. He will be fondly remembered and dearly missed by all who knew and loved him.

“ It’s hard to limit what you can say about this brother of mine. He was one year ahead of me in school and quite the act to follow. Everyone liked him and he played football. He couldn’t wait to tell mom and dad when I dented the new car at lunch when I took friends to A&W. Anyway, he was hard to say goodbye to, but I know he is in a much better place . He’s probably got the biggest 5th wheel in heaven!
