“ Memories.. certainly wasn't planning this trip before hearing a few days ago of an important friend not with me. Physically, we've not seen each other much for many years but made no difference in spending hours with you at the 50th class reunion. I'm soo, soo glad that happened. It was a real gift.

I remember: gathering firewood behind your house with the International H, jumping a cycle across a chasm in your front yard, walking 20 miles together and cramps in my legs while swimming afterwards, riding together on your 175 Honda to Washington State Park, staying at your house during Summer of '78 transitioning from JeffCo to Rolla, so many trips to Dad's cabin on the Current River in the Blue Chevy ¾ ton, that same truck with parts hanging from the tree in your back yard, talking about getting the radio tower down beside the house, car batteries draining in your mom's sink, nobody else I knew had an engine lathe in their basement, changing oil in the bugger green Datsun pickup in your garage when it was too cold to be doing it, planting trees on the property along the Jacks Fork, rappelling down the face of the rock outcropping across the river from Dad's cabin, trip to visit Rich Brandel in Chicago, the bag of chocolate covered peanuts you told me kept you going to visit me in Pinedale, nights camping getting to Oregon and California on too small of bikes, traffic ticket i got coming back for you on wrong side of the freeway somewhere in Nevada with a flat tire, helping Mag and I get married 49 years ago and a host of other things that will come to mind later.

I miss you. It's way to early to be having this happen. Gary C.
