It was given in Korea for his heroic achievement while serving as an automatic rifleman with Company A of the Seventh Division's 17th infantry regiment. When Corp. Rideout's platoon was pinned down by enemy fire, he left the comparative safety of his position and charged the hostile emplacement. His citation reads in part, "Even though wounded by enemy fire, Corp. Rideout limped up the hill firing his weapon. After he was wounded again, he dragged himself to a prone position and continued firing, enabling his platoon to rout the enemy from their defensive positions." He received the award from Maj. Gen C.B. Ferenbaugh, former commanding general of the Seventh Division, who is a member of the United Nations armistice delegation meeting at Panmunjom. Son of Mr. Milton Rideout, he was employed by Chrysler corporation before entering the Army Nov. 6, 1950." Hugh was awarded two purple hearts, four bronze stars and one silver star. He will be fondly remembered and dearly missed by all who knew him and loved him.

“ I was so sad to hear of Micky's passing. I met him when I moved into Fox Hollow subdivision 22 years ago. I drove down the street to Reinke, forgot something, made sure the coast was clear and backed all the way to my drive way, 5 houses down. He said he had to come meet the new person and find out where I took driving lessons. That's were the friendship started. I've been sick off and on since the new year and last spoke and visited with Micky December 25th when we dropped in to see how he was doing. I'm so sorry for your loss. He used to come on down and visit when we have pool parties and my family loved listening to his story's. He was a true hero. My son invited him and we took him to my son's ROTC banquet in high school. I've spoken to Al once or twice when I saw his truck there, you probably don't remember me but to the entire family, you have my condolences. Al if you need the lawn mowed the boy next door has offered. As well, if there is anything I can do. I am the 5th house on the left, Fox Briar Lane. There is a bunny rabbit bird bath under Micky's tree in front of his house. I would love to honor him and relocate it to our subdivision cul-de-sac. If that is okay with you, let me know. We should be sprucing up the cul-de-sac this week. Sincerely, Adrienne Hennessey
