“ There are so many things I could and would like to say about my Dad. I've learned many things throughout my life, but none as important and meaningful as what I learned from Dad. He lived what he taught every day of his life....honor, loyalty, honesty, respect, and unconditional love. His strength, courage, love of his country and fellow man.

Everyone that knew my Dad liked him, so many looked up to him. I always felt so proud that he was my dad. He was my first love...he is the standard by which all men are judged in my eyes...I am not ashamed to say that no man I ever met was my father's equal, and I never loved any other man as much.

He gave me the greatest gift anyone could give another person, he believed in me. When my father didn't have my hand...he had my back. My hero has more than earned his wings.

Goodnight Irene... I'll see you in my dreams....

*Love you always,
Your little girl*

“ *The old home town doesn't look the same Without 'Paw
Jack McCabe*

*Everything you did made someone smile.
Telling stories, jokes
that was your style*

*You were a country man,
No suits and ties
always had a bit of a farmer's tan*

You played your guitar for everyone to hear staying up late with your family friends sometimes having a cold beer

*Music was everything to you,
Only after your family
To protect them, there was nothing you wouldn't do.*

*You were the best grandpa I could have asked for.
When you snuck me and Jake cookies and candy,
Or bought us too many things from the store.*

I'd sit beside you, listen to your stories laugh., and talkabout all of the memories

*You were the strongest man I've ever known You served your country for two and a half years
Nothing less than bravery and honor have you shown*

*...So,
I hope you're happy up there,
Playing guitar and singing with Elvis*

*I love you,
And when I get off that train,
I hope I'll see you again
Standing under the old, oak tree of the green,
green grass
of home.*

*I love you Paw.

“ Everyday with my Dad is a good memory. Everyone that knew him and that was around him knew he spoke from the heart. His grin, his laugh, hand shake or hug always had meaning to whom ever was standing in front of him. Keep the guitars tuned and the amps warm in hopes that I can stand by your side again one day and pick the night away.

I love you and will miss you
