“ Well my sweet sweet sister today is the day we finally lay you to rest. I was hoping this day didn't come it's makes everything so final and I can hardly bare the thought growing old without you. But tommorow is never promised and we must go on even it be so painful without you my big sis. We will protect Bass your children and grandchildren. Give Mom the biggest hug and kiss and tell Dad we have always missed him so much even though we were so young. You might be gone but never forgotten. I love you more than words and saying goodbye is the hardest thing I have to do. I love you sis.

“ Hey Mom ! I love you and miss you more than words can say. I have a heart full of memories that I will cherish forever. We had so much fun traveling for my gymnastic competitions and I thank you so much for always being there for me. I guess it was your time to go, but I know God has eased your pain and you are smiling down on us from heaven. Give Dabau a kiss for me and it brings me comfort to know you have her there with you. I'll see ya again Mom. I know you will be waiting for me when my time comes. Until then, listen for me because I'll be praying to you for the rest of my life. I love you

“ My dear sweet cousin,
You were more than a cousin, you were also a friend. I so enjoyed our camping trips together! Those were the times we would "catch up" on life. I loved hearing about your many adventures, talking about your Grands, dinners, spades, and sitting at the river. I will miss all of these things, and most of all, I will just miss you. You raised three great kids, and you were often my "go to" when I needed consumer advice! Your job on earth is done, and we have to accept that. You will be so greatly missed! Until we meet again my cousin and friend, rest in peace and know that I love you!

Laying by the pool, camping, watching the chickens, and exploring restaurants were just a few of the great memories. You will always be in my heart. Thank you for helping shape me into who I am today. I love you.*
