“ My sincerest condolences to The Rea family. To Lindsey and Harper, I hope that these trees will forever symbolize and honor Jeff's enduring spirit and impact he will forever have on us. The first tree represents the deep roots of love and values he established, grounding and nurturing you both. The second symbolizes the far-reaching branches of his life, his accomplishments and the many lives he touched. The third embodies the seeds of wisdom and love he sowed with you two, and many others, which continue to grow and expand as time goes on.

May these trees stand as a living memorial and testament to Jeff's colorful and impactful life. Also, know that when the roots eventually intertwine, they will mirror the bonds and shared history of you and Jeff's life, and the welcoming of Harper as well. As they mature and flourish, I hope they are a constant reminder of Jeff's presence and the neverending love he brought to you, to us, and to this world throughout his journeys.

“ Lindsey, You know how important Jeff was to me, and I know how important you and Harper are to him. A teacher has a very short list of her most favorites—Jeff is on that list for me. From a defiant 15-year-old to my Falcon Flight winner his senior year to an amazing family man, I have had the honor and pleasure to watch it happen. I have a million stories...some of which are not quite appropriate for this page! 😊 May God grant you all peace. Jeff will be with you forever when you look at your little girl. I am sending you so much love.
