Joan's legacy is one woven with threads of kindness, community, and dedication. Her vibrant spirit found joy in the simple pleasures of life, whether it was the thrill of a BINGO win or the warmth of fellowship at the community center where she volunteered tirelessly. Her faith was the cornerstone of her existence, with her unwavering commitment to her church serving as a guiding light for others. But it was perhaps in her career at Schnucks Supermarket where Joan's true mark was made. For over three decades, she poured her heart and soul into her work, embodying the values of hard work and integrity. Her retirement in 2008 marked the end of an era, but her impact resonates in the countless lives she touched along the way. Joan's legacy is not just one of professional achievement, but of the profound influence of a compassionate soul who made the world a brighter place for all who knew her.

“ I just had lunch with Joan and another long time friend a month ago after not seeing her in person for some time.....we spoke on the phone often and I realized that her health issues of the last several years were really starting to weigh heavily on her. She spoke often and prayed that she would not have to be admitted into a nursing facility.....I believe God answered that prayer in His own timing to relieve the frustration she had with those issues.....God always knows what's best for each one of us if we will trust Him with all our hearts and not rely on our own understanding...Proverbs 3:4,5. Julie, Jonathan, and Janice and extended family members, God bless you and keep you all in His Peace and Love.
