“ Growing up I was lucky enough to be on the same soccer team as Josh during elementary school. Josh taught me something I'd never forget. The opposing team had a penalty kick and it was just him standing there alone because the rest of our team was too scared to block the kick from the biggest guy on their team. Seeing the fear on his face but him still standing there gave me the courage to stand up there next to him. It took a lot for me, being the smallest kid on the team. Once I got up there he looked over at me with the biggest smile on his face that just said, hey we got this. I was surprised to see how quickly his confidence turned now that he had someone to support him. That's when I realized he didn't need someone to help block, he just needed someone to be by his side and believe in him. Josh ended up blocking the kick and winning the game. He taught me for the rest of my life to always be there and stand up for someone else even when the odds are stacked against them. Don't just wait for someone to ask for help, be the one who is there by someone's side in a difficult time. Always stand by your friends and family no matter how bad what they're going through may seem. This was 10-15 years ago and I can still remember this moment like it was yesterday and Josh has taught me one of the most important lessons I've ever learned and made a lasting impact on my life and so many others. Rest In Peace Josh, you'll always be remembered.

“ I was blessed to have had Josh in my Advisory class at the Valley Middle School during his eighth grade year. He was a model student and citizen in every way. He would participate in the various activities and discussions with enthusiasm, and he treated everyone with kindness and respect. I remember that one of his favorite movies was We Are Marshall, so I will watch it in Josh's honor.
