Leona taught Sunday school and volunteered in many capacities at Faith Community Church. She worked for many years as the administrative assistant to the pastor and, after retiring, continued serving the Church. In her younger days, Leona enjoyed riding as a passenger on her husband Clinton's motorcycle. Later, she and her family enjoyed boating at area lakes. Leona was an accomplished seamstress, she loved gardening, horseback riding and painting. She was an avid reader, especially the Bible, and enjoyed assembling jigsaw puzzles.

Even though she was busy, she always had time for her family. Her favorite times were when all of her family got together. She smiled often, loved hugs, and always prayed for each one of her family.

“ Leona was a very important part of my becoming who I am today. Many days I would stop at the church and Leona would spend time talking with me and praying with me. She helped me as I was starting my road to recovery.
