“ Hey dad its been awhile almost 2 years. I'm not gonna lie its been hard, really hard specially for mom. We moved to Festus but you probably already knew that. We don't get along that well anymore. I mostly am with friends and she works two jobs again. I miss you so so much. Playing slug bug isn't the same with out. I know you will always be with me looking over us. But I wish you were actually here... We both do. But it's okay because one day I will see you again and every thing will be okay again. You always made everything better. You always seem to crack some joke and make it all better. I miss those times. The times when I would get off the bus and you would be waiting for me to surprise me and then take me to get a shake and fries and then when mom got home she would always ask where hers was and we would always say you weren't here not our problem. Then we would ask what's for dinner. I haven't been to our park in awhile mom doesn't have the time or the money too. And I don't think we could take it either. I remember the first time you took me there to long elk park. We changed the name to J.M.E.L.K park. I haven't been to the house either I asked mom one day and she said she couldn't take that either and honestly I know we couldn't. Misty has gotten even fatter lol shes getting old almost 15. But I know when she passes you will still be giving her treats and loving on her all the time. I love you Ed, you were the best thing that's ever happened to me and my mom.

“ I worked with Ed as Paric Corporations Project Manager on most of the major construction projects built for Jefferson County. He was great public servant always keeping the county"s interest first and foremost. Ed was a great story teller. I will miss those story"s that were a prelude to every meeting and a prerequisite for every lunch. He was one of a kind and will truly be missed.
