“ To my Grandma

You were my best friend. I could talk to you about anything and everything. You were so fun and so full of life. I loved playing cards, bingo and dancing outside with the family. I miss you so much. You gave me so much love and taught me so much. Until we meet again...I love you!

“ To my Grandmother,

One of my fondest memories with you, was you teaching me how to play cards. We would sit at the coffee table and play for hours. We had a lot of fun as children watching you, our Grandma, get up and dance to "Old Time Rock and Roll". Most Grandmas were boring, not you. You were not afraid to be yourself. You were full of life and liked to have fun. I imagine you have livened up the party up there. I miss you and will think you often.

“ Mom, no words can tell you how i miss you. I think of something I want to share with you but can't call you like i did before, so now I call dad and we talk. If anyone would ask me what my mother was like, I would say that she loved me dearly. You were caring and always there for us kids right or wrong. I am sad but grateful that we had the holidays with all our family together. Mom, as long as I live you will be in my heart and my head. I can only imagine what heaven is like with you up there hollering out B12 or one of your hot poker games with your sisters and brothers. Save space for us when we are ready. I LOVE YOU
