“ Rissa, you were the first baby I held. First baby I lived with. First baby I fed Gerber peas and the got to burp up on me. Also, I recall a diaper or 2.... All worth it, because when we had Rylee, she reminded me of you....I also remember watching you play my electric guitar when you lived with us on Dinard, and was proud of your ability to follow through with music and everything you focused on. If I had the chance to say goodbye, I would have said thank you. Thank you for always calling me Uncle Kevin, being happy when I was sad, generously giving me hugs, and for uniting our family. We admired, loved and adored you and will cherish the memories - Kevin, Jamey, and Rylee

“ I am trying really hard to look like I am in one piece on the outside, but on the inside I am shattered into about a million. I am going to miss your smile, your goofy giggle, your “blonde like” moments. Our intense games of dominoes, you eating more green jello salad than you should. I was looking forward to you falling in love, getting married, and having babies. You were accomplishing great things and had your eye on even more. I miss you so much it truly hurts right in the middle of my chest.

Aunt Pam loves you, Rissa Mae!!
