“ Thank you Patrick for blessing everyone you met. You taught us all so much by your authenticity, love and living in the now... While it seems like our time with you was a fleeting moment, your spirit will live with us forever. Knowing with out a doubt that you are in Heaven, it softens up this gut wrenching earthly grief. Enjoy your wings my friend...

“ How you are missed Patrick. No words here are even close to describing your friendship. 31 years ago we met as a group of eclectic room mates, all of who went in amazingly different directions. Your thoughts at Christmas, sharing your endless travels... Ahh, you are a top notch friend and gentleman. God speed Pat!

“ Patrick was truly the person everyone wanted to be near. He was a perfect example of recognizing all of the beauty in life and sharing it. He shared it with his photos, laughter and smiles and made every person he came in contact with feel special. He loved his Family so much and became a part of many other people's family. I know he was a part of ours. Ritch, Blake and I feel very blessed to have known Patrick and will hold our memories dear to our heart. You now have your wings Patrick and I will hold you in my heart forever!

To Jenny, Tim, Sam and the boys, he thought the world of you and your family and I hope you can find some peace in knowing he will always be watching over you. He was an angel here on earth and I know he is smiling at all of us from above.

RIP my dear friend.

“ Patrick Horrell was a gift to everyone who was blessed to have him touch their lives. I am certain he was an Earth Angel. All of the touching stories of how he touched so many lives confirms this. He loved his family fiercely and was full of love, compassion, and generosity. His passing came too early for us...but I know our dear Heavenly Father is happy to have this angel back in heaven. He will be busy watching over all of us who loved him dearly. In the meantime the "Patrick" stories keep him in our hearts and help us as we process this loss. He will forever be part of our stories as well. How blessed we all are to have had him be a part of our lives

“ We were so blessed to cross paths with Patrick in 2011 while searching for a home in St. Louis. He showed us a house on very short notice and took a personal interest in helping us get settled back in St. Louis after many years away.

We were so very sad to hear of his passing - he will certainly be missed. He was clearly a blessing to all he came in contact with.

The Horrell family is in our thoughts and prayers.

“ My simple poem/song for my dear friend of almost 45 years:

"Gratitude for you-

And the life you shared with me-

Though you've gone away -

In my heart you'll always be."

“ Pat was an amazing, thoughtful person who did so much for me and my family (the Masek family). He took wonderful pictures of my immediate family and wedding - ones that will be cherished forever. He also sold me and my husband's house for us and helped us go through the process of building another one. But most importantly, he was genuinely kind, unselfish, and caring towards everyone he met. And he always acted like the person he was talking to was the most important person in the room/world. The Masek Family and especially me will miss him dearly.

“ Well, it has taken me all week to honor our dear, sweet, beloved Pat, but I had a moment of enlightenment/clarity, an epiphany of sorts, this morning that may comfort others as much as it and he have comforted me.

We may not have been aware of his grace when he was here with us, but I now believe he was our Emanuel (Christ among us). He treated everyone he ever met with God's unconditional love, kindness, help, hope and tireless care.

"The King will answer and say to them, 'Truly I say to you, to the extent that you did it to one of these brothers of Mine, even the least of them, you did it to Me.'

Matthew 25:41 · 39

I love you, Pat, and only hope we can carry on your pure & wonderful light and love to each other every day for the rest of our lives here on earth until we see you again!

Love,
Sam

“ Patrick was an amazing soul...he had a gift for making each person he was with feel like the most important person in the world. His love for life and for others was truly a blessing. For all of us who had the chance to know this amazing man, we are blessed for it. Our lives are a little fuller and are hearts bigger for having crossed his path.

My thoughts and prayers are with his family...I can't imagine the loss you must feel. Keep embracing life and continue to look for opportunities to live life to the fullest.

“ Patrick was such a dear friend and a truly beautiful soul. I share Kelley's fond memories of Hi-Pointe frivolity! and of course October birthday celebrations and winery trips. The last time I saw Patrick, he very patiently helped me with some headshots for job hunting. What a master! Let's just say the camera doesn't love this old broad, but I turned out beautiful!

My thoughts are with Jenny, Tim, the boys, and all of us who love and are missing Patrick.

Miss you friend...

“ Patrick was and will always be a mensch. Selfless, joyous, kind, generous, warm, present...there are not enough adjectives to describe him nor enough tears to weep for such a human.

“ I still can't believe it. Patrick was such a super guy in SO many ways! I have flown with Patrick many times. We were hired around the same time. My fondest memories were when we took a 10 day trip to Russia in the early 90's. We had a blast and laughed a lot. My sympathies go out to all of his family. He always spoke so highly of you all. I will say many prayers and I know that he is a beautiful angel now above watching over all of us!

“ From Rita. Everyone wear your Pat Pearls Friday! And forgive me the following self-indulgent verbosity.

I'm speaking in the present tense, because I am absolutely sure to the depths of my soul that Pat is alive in Heaven and is aware of what his loved ones on Earth are feeling and saying about him.

To all my dear friends who did not know Pat was sick (or at least this bad), PLEASE don't regret that he didn't give you the chance to be there for him. As much as his family and mine begged him to let everyone know, he just didn't want that. You know how he is. He wanted you to only see him as his REAL self, the one you have always known and loved -- controlling things to the end--lol. And, as far as wishing you could have told him you cared and would do anything to make his journey easier if you had known, I promise you, he knew that then, and HE HEARS YOU NOW.

Everyone reading this has had many firsts with Pat. For me, they include my first float trip, first prom, first airplane ride, first swing dance...and today is another first for me with Patrick. This is the first time in my life that I am positive that I know what every person who knows Pat is thinking. So, in true Pat fashion, I shall express them as:

The Top 10 Things Everyone is Thinking about Pat Today.

#10. Pat is one of the funniest and most FUN persons we have ever known. He made up the world's stupidest lyrics and dorkiest jokes and was ALWAYS up for a good time.

#9. Pat is the kindest, most generous, thoughtful, and loving person we have ever known. He often treated us better than we treated ourselves and better than we deserved. Pat knew no strangers--only friends he hadn't met yet.

#8. We have had many awesome experiences that we never would have had if Pat weren't in our lives.

#7. Pat is the absolute epitome of individuality--wholly and fearlessly unique. Simply no-one like him ever, anywhere. He accepted everyone as they are, and commanded that he be accepted for who he is.

#6. Pat knew how to LIVE life on this earth. He lived more in his too-short years here than 5 average humans live. He truly lived every day as if it were his last.

#5. We will encounter things each and every day that will remind us of Pat--every time we play a game, sing and hear karaoke, see a great movie, hear some awesome music, dance, get incensed at our politicians, eat Thai food, travel. And it will be a long, long time until that doesn't make us laugh and cry at the same time.

#4. While we know that Pat is in Bliss, singing karaoke with Bernardi, getting some of Sherzinger's bulgogi, eating Ruth's celestial cooking, hanging out with the real Louis...our hearts ache for missing him, and there shall be a REAL, giant hole in our everyday lives without him here on this human plane with us.

#3. Pat lived the idea of Namaste. He recognized the divine in every person he ever met, and he made each of us feel that way, special and valuable.

#2. The best times of our lives had Pat in them.

#1. The sphere of Pat's influence on this world, his true spiritual and emotional footprint, thru the sheer number of people, whom he really knew intimately, whose lives he brightened, is unfathomable. But we all know he made this world a better place and we are blessed to have been in his circle.

I LOVE YOU MORE, Pong A Tong.

Save a spot for me by you in the next life.

“ When I was with Pat he made me feel like the most important person in the world. I'm a better person just by knowing him.

He created wonderful family memories for all of the Masek's by taking our family, wedding and graduation photos. He was the most perfect big brother Jenny could have asked for and I was honored to have him in my life for the past 35 years.

“ No person I have ever met lived life larger than Pat. We shared such great times, a solid friendship, crazy karaoke, had meaningful conversations, laughed til we cried, sold real estate together, shared decorating ideas, exchanged travel stories, and he always kept me with an ample supply of pearls!!

My deepest condolences to Jenny, Tim, and the entire family. Pat was one of a kind. His memory will live forever. He was a dear heart.

Much love to all.

“ Pat was a friend to so many of us. He profoundly touched the lives of just about everyone he knew. I remember the day I met him, 25 years ago, at the Hi Pointe bar, along with Rita, Keith, and a couple of others, as I was there with Mark. I remember him being so warm, friendly and genuine. From that moment, I knew I wanted to know Pat more. And, I did. There were other Hi Pointe visits, parties at friends' homes, days on our houseboat, karaoke bars, Shakespeare in the Park nights, his annual bash, and more. I have too many memories to share. Another thing about Pat before I go--when it was important, he showed up, without fail. I love you, Pat. Thanks for being a true friend. Love, Kelley Bernardi
