“ Mr. Cook to me. Made a lasting impression throughout my high school years. He was invested in kids and from what I observed and experienced, always treated us with respect. He didn't talk down at us or lecture using page and verse. He spoke firmly yet was always there to talk. Mr. Cook could be trusted. He had integrity. I regret never making a trip to tell him in person, he made a positive difference in my life. There were very few people in the field of education with his credentials or skills. Mr. Cook was there because he cared about young people. Gary Reed Class of '68
