“ Paul was like a second father to me. When Lisa and I got married he came to me and called me son, that meant a lot to me knowing he accepted me into the family and was a proud father in-law. There was a time I was playing my ps4 he grabbed my controller and was acting like he was playing I still laugh at this memory. I became very close to Paul in the past few years, I will definitely miss our conversations when after work. I would walk in the door and he would say son where where you working today most of my jobs are in sout city so I'd say o south city, he would reply o there's some good restaurants down there you should eat at the have good food. There will remain and place in my heart for Paul it was a pleasure to know him as he was a kind hearted person.
