I am heartbroken. Petey and I became very close friends in the late 90's in New Orleans, LA. He moved to Seattle, WA and invited me to be his Best Man at his first wedding. I moved to Seattle that same year and lived in the apartment just above him. We sadly grew apart as friends then he moved to San Diego, CA and I infrequently heard from him in brief emails. The last time he wrote me was April 2017. I had no idea he was gone from this earth until today when I googled his name to try and find his most recent address. I am so sorry for his family and the loss of such a talented, kind-hearted individual. I wish I could have been there for him. Rest In Peace, my dear old friend. Rest In Peace. - Layton.

I can't believe that you've been gone 5 years! 5 years of memories we could've shared. Yet, I understand and don't understand at the same time. I wish you'd shared just a little bit more of your pain with me so I could've tried somehow to save you even though I was and am going through possibly the same issues as you. I'll never know. It was a great pleasure knowing you even though I never really knew you. Love and miss you always, Don. R I P. my friend!!
