“ Reid,

It is not for us to understand why things like this happen, and ever harder to accept. Where do I start..I know my absolute favorite memory of you was the day I had your brother Korman. I remember you were the first to see him. You were standing at the door and you started to cry, you said you were just happy to have a brother. Korman is missing you terribly right now, he said he just wants to play guitar hero with you one more time. I have too many memories of you and Brittany to mention. You two were like bread and butter. I hope you are at peace up there with the ones who passed before you and please wait patiently for the ones you love to follow.
