“ My biggest cheerleader, encourager and so much more, she thought I was strong in everything that I encountered. She likely didn't realize she contributed to who I am. If she did she'd never claim the part. She'd say “No girl, that's Our God, close your eyes and SEE Him”.

"Rose was the epitome of a 'Christ One', taking consistent and persistent actions to serve others, praying for and with them, sharing all of God's Word and Promises, and living a content lifestyle...fully dependent upon whatever Jesus walked her through, being in this world but never of this world."

Soon, we lay her to rest our human worldly way. It means so little. The memorial is really her Parade she already received in Heaven. She got to reunite with all the others in the front of that parade. She lived to shine for them and God, not herself.

We get to see the floats and clowns in front of us, God leads the whole outfit we miss out on, but we know He'll call those like Rose, those who love Him, to be included when the parade passes our way.

Live to be in the parade or live on the sidelines, forever.

Rosie loved smile and always there for me. We loved making card for all the members of Cedar Hill Lutheran Church....we worked together on the Alter. We shared stories of our Sons that had gone home to heaven. I will miss her very much and will be in my heart....

Rosie. I miss this lady so much. I wanted to say something at her service but nothing would have been special enough for her, She was the very first person to take me under her wing when I walked into Cedar Hill Lutheran Church and she became such a dear person to me. She mentored my son and prayed for my entire family as she did for all of us there. Her husband Leo, and her were the stalwarts of the church. If they weren't there on a Sunday it didn't feel right. Always with a smile and a heart of gold, she truly had a heart for GOD. I rejoice that she is with him but feel sorrow that she is missed down here. She was a part of everything good. I love you Rosie. And the entire church is watching over your family along with God. We love them too.
