“ I am sorry that I am just now finding about Roy. I worked with Roy at Clary Roofing back in the late 80's and early 90's. It was a crappy job, but Roy and I managed to have a lot of fun. I remember one time we were working on a roof that had rotten plywood and sure enough, Roy stepped right on a rotten piece of wood and his feet went right through the roof and the ceiling below, effectively giving the lady a skylight in her living room. And he could never seem to hold on to his roofing hatchet as I cannot count the number of times that I saw his hatchet go sailing off the roof. I have a lot of fond memories of Roy. He was the kind of guy that made you feel like you were brothers and heaven knows we sometimes fought that way. He was quite a character and will surely be missed. My condolences to Tammy (I was also floored to find that you lost Krystal in 2006 as I remember her when she was just a little girl.)
-Sincerely, Troy Jones
