“ We got to know Stan at Friedens UCC in St. Charles. He would talk to us about his time in the military. We honor the veterans in our church on Veterans Sunday and he would share stories. What a sweet man. He always sat in the same place in church. We will miss him. Please accept our deepest sympathies.

“ Grandpa was the best. I will always remember my trips to the Orthodontist with him. It was always the best skipping school to spend the day with him. After my appointment he would take me to eat at Crown Candy. Sometimes I'd get to see how they made chocolates in the back because he grew up with the original owner. Some trips had take me to the Pevely factory where he sold them milk carton labels. It was cool to see the process of filling the milk cartons. Another great memory is summer trips to the muny. He would cart all of us rambunctious grandkids down in his car! Not sure how he handled all of us, lol. But I loved the live shows, popcorn, slushies, and the huge fans to keep the crowd cool. He is the reason I love live theater. I will miss hearing him sing the old songs. As we turned into adults, Eric kept the tradition going by taking grandpa himself a few times. It was the best growing up a few blocks from my grandparents. My mom watched my cousin's over the summers. They were the best times! We would all ride our bikes down to their house and play in all grandpas business stuff in his office and under his steps. Grandpa even let me and my cousin Kyra build a barn for our play horses and a cabinet for jewelry. He took us to buy the supplies and paint. I still have the cabinet to this day. Speaking of paint, Kyra and I painted his garage door too lol. From the inside it's still how we painted it. He never fixed it and gave Kyra and I crap all the time how we never finished it, lol. Secretly he liked it. As I got older he was obsessed with getting fruit and nut trees to grow in my yard. The terrain is clay and hard to get things to grow. I have a few that took off. Gramps would always call to the house and ask how the trees were doing. And when he'd come over he'd walk to each tree to see how they were coming along. I sure will miss those calls to see how the trees were. I couldn't be more proud and thankful to be his granddaughter. ❤️

Such a loving relationship with your grandpa. I know how much you'll miss him. But can think of him everytime you look out on your trees.
