Tom lived a full life of work, hobbies, and family, touching the hearts of everyone who knew him.

Tom's achievements were many, but he often humbly spoke of three that he held in the highest regard. Firstly, his honorable service in the Navy, a testament to his courage and devotion to his country. Secondly, raising two daughters, Wendy and Shelley, was an achievement that brought him immense pride and joy. The love he had for his girls was unparalleled, only matched by the adoration he had for his late wife, Ann Redding Kull, with whom he shared a profound and enduring love. Lastly, Tom found great achievement in the simple, yet significant, pleasure of spending quality time with his family, a testament to what truly mattered most to him.

Tom's hobbies were as diverse as his personality. He was an avid deer hunter and fisherman, finding peace and contentment in the tranquility of nature. Tom also derived great pleasure from watching stock car racing, his excitement palpable with every lap. But it wasn't just about the solitude of hunting or the thrill of racing; Tom loved bringing people together. His fish fry's were legendary, a time for friends and family to gather, share stories, and enjoy good company. His love for boat cruises and exploring other parts of the world spoke to his adventurous spirit, always seeking to discover and experience the new and unknown.

Thomas M. Kull will be remembered for his dedication to family, his heartfelt spirit and the everlasting impact he had on all those who knew him. His legacy of love, laughter, humor and courage will continue to inspire those he leaves behind.
