Helllooooo! If you knew him, you hear his greeting. Our dad was loud, had the gift of gab and his laugh... oh the laugh. If he really got going, everyone in the room would be laughing. If there was a song to be sung his Irish Brogue would surely come out. He always walked through the door with hugs and kisses for all.

He had the most giving heart, whether you were family or a stranger, he would give you his last dollar (always from the secret compartment) and gladly do without. He taught us many life lessons through his actions.

A proud Army Veteran, a Union Pipefitter and quite the handyman. He never met a project he couldn't almost complete. He was also a great inventor. I'm sure everyone can think of one of his "inventions".

He had many hobbies and interests but none of them compared to his love of spending time with all of us. Road trips, cowboy shoots, bumming and going crazy with his kids and grandkids. He loved mom fiercely and his love for his Baby Girls and Boyo's will be felt for a lifetime.

There is one piece of advice we want everyone to remember... "Don't take any wooden nickels"- Tom Mullaney
