“ Those who depart this life early are the hardest to say goodbye to. Not only did he have many years before him to enjoy, but he left behind many who will so miss him in the days and years to come. He helped our family several times when my husband and chief mechanic died several years ago. He sharpened my brush hog and helped my son with tractor repairs when we were having problems. He was a prince of a fellow!

“ I have so memories of us growing up riding and racing together. We've crossed paths a few times over the years and always talked about getting together to hangout with our families. I wish we would have made that happen brother. You were a great guy Timmy Nolan. You will be missed by many I am sure of that. I also know you'll be looking down on your family watching over them all. Keep it on one wheel up there brother just like we did down here. Miss you man!

I had never met Tim, but I felt like I knew him through Carrie's stories and the family pictures she posted in her work area. My heart is deeply saddened to hear about this tragic accident and the passing of Tim and injuries to Carrie. My sincere sympathy to Carrie, their children and extended family. My prayers for strength during this very difficult time.

I am so sorry to hear of Carrie's accident and the loss of her husband. I felt like I knew her whole family through her stories. I loved hearing her talk of her children and Tim. It was always evident that they were a loving family. Carrie and her family are in my thoughts and prayers.

Carrie, you always shared comments about your family whenever we were together. You were a close unit of love. Greg and I are so sad for you and will keep you, your children and family in our prayers. Remember you have so many friends and your close loving family at work to help you through the sadness.
