“ I knew Vincie when she was in 3rd grade, I was in 6th, at Lyndover Grade School in Maplewood, MO. First saw her when I was a Patrol Boy on the corner just north of the school. What a beauty! First time I ever gave a girl chocolates for Valentine's Day! We had a kid's romance, so innocent back then, but I was heartbroken when she told me her family was moving into St. Louis City. A couple of years later I saw Vincie and her younger brother Angelo on Captain 11's Showboat but had no way to find out where she lived or look her up. Around 1974 I found her through a relative, but she was married living in an apartment with her husband and newborn baby. After moving to Texas, on one of my trips back home to visit, I discovered her working in a Steak N Shake on Hampton Blvd. She had become even more beautiful. That was the last time I saw her, but I'll never forget our childhood "romance" and she felt so honored I had remembered her. I'm just now seeing her obituary and remembering all the fun times I had with my very first grade school girlfriend. My deepest sympathies to your family. RIP, Vincie...

Thank you so much for writing this, Richard. It brings very fond memories of her to me as her daughter. It helps keep her memory alive. Her 2 year death anniversary was yesterday. I'm up late thinking about her as I do often. I miss her dearly. She was full of spunk. I choose to remember the best memories of her.

Hi, Melissa, thanks for responding to my post. I still think of Vincie quite often. I also remember her little brother Angelo, but I doubt he'd remember me. I believe he was in second or even first grade when Vincie was in third. You can ask Angelo the next time you see him. I will never forget her, as she made such a lasting impression on me.
