“ I am not sure I will ever recover from my moms death. But I always knew you were there if I needed to chat. I miss you. I know after she died, you moved on. I hope you know how much you impacted my life and I considered you another dad, one that was definitely more involved than the one God gave me. As the death of your anniversary is coming up and the death of mom, as well, I find myself remembering all the good times we had. I hope the two of you have been reunited and are watching all of us. I am sure you miss Goose Creek and cigars. lol. Love you Ed!
